Writing Against Revolution Literary Conservatism

Reflections on the Revolution in France is a political pamphlet written by the Irish statesman Edmund Burke and published in November 1790. One of the best-known intellectual attacks against the French Revolution, Reflections is a defining tract of modern conservatism as well as an important contribution to international theory. Above all else, it has been one of the defining efforts of Edmund ...

CONSERVATISM ALWAYS BEEN. HAS NOT THE ORPHAN within American historical scholarship that it is today. The progressive historians who dominated the writing of American history through much of the first half of this century placed conservatives at the center of their interpretive scheme, a scheme that portrayed American history as a long and often intense struggle between popular democratic ...
